

Want to learn effective methods for collaborative and reproducible research, based on robustly written software?

Come join the 3rd

NORBIS Summer School - Robust and reproducible practices in bioinformatics programming, which will take place in Oslo, August 6-10 2018, and learn how to:

- make your software more robust
- collaboratively develop software
- make your computational analysis more reproducible

Photo: Colourbox

Interested?

Read more here: norbis.no/activities/summerschool

Deadline: June 20